a. Introduction

The Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) collects cybersecurity incident reports related to federal agency information systems, mandatory reports on behalf of certain federal regulatory agencies, mandatory reports due to contractual requirements, and voluntary reports from members of the public. This question set, which is authorized by the Federal Information Security Modernization Act of 2014 (FISMA) and the Homeland Security Act, is distinct from incident reporting under the Cyber Incident Reporting for Critical Infrastructure Act (CIRCIA). CISA will use a different information collection instrument for CIRCIA incident reports after the effective date of CIRCIA implementing regulations.

The questions included in this document represent the universe of all possible questions CISA may use for incident report information collection purposes across the multiple existing incident reporting use cases; no respondent will be presented all the questions. In the Incident Reporting Portal respondents will be directed to answer a subset of the questions based on the characteristics of the reporting entity, the reasons for which they are reporting, and the nature of the incident. The dynamic design of the Incident Reporting Portal means that the user experience flow from question to question is driven by the individual respondent's responses. As described in the next section CISA has provided design notes to explain the conditional logic which supports the dynamic design; the conditional logic may change as CISA works to implement the Incident Reporting Portal and is provided as an example to help the reader understand how questions relate to one another.

b. Labels Used

Throughout this document labels are used to provide context on how conditional logic may impact the flow from question-to-question, to indicate where certain respondents may be able to indicate they would like certain data markings applied to their responses to the question, and to note where additional text may be shown to the respondent in the Incident Reporting Portal to assist with question comprehension.

Conditional Logic Markings:

[RA] = Required question for all types of reports

[RR] = Required question for reports identified as necessary to satisfy a regulatory and/or statutory requirement including Federal Information Security Modernization Act (FISMA)

[RC] = Required question based on an earlier conditional response/selection.

[FISMA Req] = Required question for reports identified as necessary to satisfy FISMA reporting requirements.

[FedRAMP] = Required question for reports identified as necessary to satisfy Federal Risk and Authorization Management Program (FedRAMP) reporting requirements.

[Fed Ctr] = U. S. Government Federal Contractor Only

[Op] = Optional

[Op] + [FISMA Req] = Required for FISMA reporters and optional for all other reporters.

[Op] + [RR] = Optional for all, except required for regulatory and/or statutory reporting including FISMA.

{Conditional} = Provides additional conditional logic context on some questions.

Data Markings:

[C-15] = CISA 2015 data marking option for non-Federal incident reporting. This is not a default marking but is available for non-Federal reporters if their data meets CISA 2015 data marking criteria, e.g., cyber threat indicators (CTIs).

[CUI] = Controlled unclassified information

Design and display note markings:

Display notes do not contain questions with which a respondent must engage. Display notes contain additional explanatory content which may assist a respondent with responding to a question. The format for these notes is as follows:

(DISPLAY NOTE: Light blue and bolded words should be displayed to the reader.)

All Footnotes contained in this document accompany Display Notes and will be presented on the form in a method determined during the design process for the best display for the reader. These methods could be a combination of “pop-ups”, on form notes, “hover-over” notes, etc.

Design notes are intended to enable the developers of the Incident Reporting Portal and reviewers of the question understand the conditional logic which may direct a respondent from one question to the appropriate next question based on their input. The flow from question-to-question will continue to be under development as CISA incorporates feedback from reviewers. However, since it is critical to communicate that no respondent will answer all the questions contained herein, we wanted to provide this conditional logic to support reviewers’ understanding of how the dynamic form may work. The format for these notes is as follows:

(DESIGN NOTE: Black and bolded words are for the developers only and should not be displayed to the readers.)

²⁵ Unauthorized release of information “virtually” is an occurrence where a person other than an authorized user potentially obtains the data, such as by means of a network intrusion, a targeted compromise that exploits website vulnerabilities, the inadvertent disclosure of information (including PII) via a public website, or a phishing or social engineering incident executed through an email message or attachment. It may also include an authorized user obtaining sensitive information (including PII) for other than the authorized purpose. If such an incident involves personally identifiable information (PII) on a federal system, the unauthorized release is considered a Breach per OMB – M-17-12. Often, an occurrence may be first identified as an incident, but later identified as a breach once it is determined that the incident involves PII.

²⁶ Unauthorized release of information "physically" is an occurrence where a person other than an authorized user potentially obtains the data due to the loss or theft of physical documents that include information (including PII), portable electronic storage media that stores information (including PII), or an oral disclosure of this sensitive information (including PII) to a person who is not authorized to receive that information. If such an incident involves PII on a federal system, the unauthorized release is considered a Breach per OMB – M-17-12. Often, an occurrence may be first identified as an incident, but later identified as a breach once it is determined that the incident involves PII, as is often the case with a lost or stolen laptop or electronic storage device. This result includes improper disposal of sensitive and/or PII documentation in containers that could be accessed by non-authorized personnel (e.g., information with customer credit card or social security numbers thrown in local dumpster or lost mail containing PII).

j. Incident: Severity Assessments

Confidentiality, Integrity, Availability (CIA) Assessment²⁷

26. [RA] (DESIGN NOTE: Logic of all “None” applicable to FISMA reporters – Only. This is an Event-Incident FLAG for FISMA reporters only. If Q26 A-C are answered “no”, that terminates the rest of the Incident Questions for a FISMA reporter, and the FISMA reporter is directed towards filling out “Event Reporting” only.) At this time, is this incident known to either imminently²⁸ or actually jeopardize, without lawful authority, any of the following relating to either information or an information system? (select all that apply) (DESIGN NOTE: For non-FISMA reports, if “unsure/None” selected for all three CIA questions, then DISPLAY NOTE: You have not indicated an impact on at least one of the three areas of confidentiality, integrity, or availability per the definition of an incident.)
- A. Confidentiality²⁹ ☐ imminently; ☐ actually; ☐ unsure; ☐ none (DESIGN NOTE: Have radio button for all)
 - B. Integrity,³⁰ ☐ imminently; ☐ actually; ☐ unsure; ☐ none (DESIGN NOTE: Have radio button for all)
 - C. Availability³¹ ☐ imminently; ☐ actually; ☐ unsure; ☐ none (DESIGN NOTE: Have radio button for all)

²⁷ The concepts of confidentiality, integrity, and availability (CIA), often referred to as the “C-I-A triad,” represent the three pillars of information security. See, e.g., NIST, NIST Special Publication 1800-25 Vol. A, Data Integrity: Identifying and Protecting Assets Against Ransomware and Other Destructive Events, at 1 (Dec. 2020), available at <https://csrc.nist.gov/pubs/sp/1800/25/final>

²⁸ Imminently: [a. Imminent] “ready to take place; happening soon” or “something bad or dangerous seen as menacingly near.” [b. Imminent danger] “[Such an appearance of threatened and impending injury [could change to harm to an entity’s information or information systems] as would put a reasonable and prudent [person] to his instant defense.” Specifically surrounding networks and data imminently implies there is reasonable suspicion a threat is going to target my entity’s information or information systems. [derived from a. Webster’s Dictionary and b. Black’s Law Dictionary {respectively}]

²⁹ “Confidentiality” refers to “preserving authorized restrictions on information access and disclosure, including means for protecting personal privacy and proprietary information.” [e.g., threat actor has access to your information or an information system, without consent.]

³⁰ “Integrity” refers to “guarding against improper information modification or destruction and ensuring information non-repudiation and authenticity.” [e.g., a threat actor has modified or deleted your information, without your consent.]

³¹ “Availability” refers to “ensuring timely and reliable access to and use of information.” [e.g., a threat actor has impeded you from accessing or operating the information system or information in the way you intended (DDOS)]

45. [RA] Would you like to document the tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTPs) and related indicators of compromise(s) (IOCs) you observed by using our offline template and uploading the completed file, or would you prefer to proceed and enter the TTPs and IOCs directly in this online form?

(DESIGN NOTE: select one) (DESIGN NOTE: If “Template” is selected, skip over following questions 47, 48, 49, 50).

A. ☐ I’d like to use the offline template (DESIGN NOTE: If selected, proceed to Q47)

B. ☐ I’d like to proceed with this report using the online form (DESIGN NOTE: If selected proceed to Q48)

46. {Conditional on Q46.A is selected} [Op] You have indicated you will use the offline template to document your TTPs and IOCs, then will upload the file once complete. Please proceed with the download of the template and instructions (below) and return to this point in the online form to upload your completed file.

A. Download the TTP/IOC template/instructions here: DOWNLOAD TEMPLATE/INSTRUCTIONS

B. Upload the completed TTP/IOC file offline template here: UPLOAD TEMPLATE

47. {Conditional on Q46.B is selected} + [RA] You have indicated you want to document your TTPs and IOCs directly into this form. At this time, can you provide information regarding the TTPs the adversary leveraged as part of this incident?

(Yes/No) (DESIGN NOTE: If No: DISPLAY NOTE: When, during your investigation, you discover knowledge about TTPs contributing to the incident, please return to this question and document them. 48. {Conditional}[RC] (DESIGN NOTE: Question applies only if “Yes” to TTPs to report selection of “Proceed directly in report” to documenting TTP/IOC in Q46.B) You have indicated you have TTP(s) to report and would like to document those TTP(s) and related IOC(s) directly in this online form. ⁴⁶ Enterprise Networks: Networks and systems that consist of and/or support information for the following platforms: Windows, macOS, Linux, Azure AD, Office 365, Google Workspace, SaaS, IaaS, Network management devices (e.g., routers, switches, hubs, etc.), and Containers.

Industrial Control Networks: Operational Technology are programmable systems or devices that interact with the physical environment (or manage devices that interact with the physical environment). These systems/devices detect or cause a direct change through the monitoring and/or control of devices, processes, and events. Examples include industrial control systems, building management systems, fire control systems, and physical access control mechanisms. (Operational technology - Glossary | CSRC \(nist.gov\))

Mobile Device Networks: Mobile devices/networks that have access to entity resources and network-based effects that can be used by adversaries. This includes supported devices for the following platforms: Android, iOS.

(DESIGN NOTE: IF No: SKIP to Q52, the "Incident Stage (I/D): Malware Artifacts and Detection Logics/Analytics" section) (DESIGN NOTE: If Yes) There are two methods by which you can share IOCs with us. Option two is via providing the IOC(s) individually in a structured format wherein you provide attribute details and TTP mapping at the time of entry. Valid accounts - default accounts (T1078.001) Valid accounts (ICS T0859)	An enforced organization-wide policy and/or process that requires changing default manufacturer passwords for any/all hardware, software, and firmware before putting on any internal or external network. This includes IT assets for operational technology, such as operational technology administration web pages. In instances where changing default passwords is not feasible (e.g., a control system with a hard-coded password), implement and document appropriate compensating security controls, and monitor logs for network traffic and login attempts on those devices. Operational technology: While changing default passwords on an organization's existing operational technology requires significantly more work, we still recommend having such a policy to change default credentials for all new or future devices. This is not only easier to achieve, but also reduces potential risk in the future if adversary TTPs change.

Brute force - password guessing (T1110.001) Brute force - password cracking (T1110.002) Brute force - password spraying (T1110.003) Brute force - credential stuffing (T1110.004)	Organizations have a system-enforced policy that requires a minimum password length of 15* or more characters for all password-protected IT assets and all operational technology assets, when technically feasible. Organizations should consider leveraging passphrases and password managers to make it easier for users to maintain sufficiently long passwords. In instances where minimum password lengths are not technically feasible, compensating controls are applied and recorded, and all login attempts to those assets are logged. Assets that cannot support passwords of sufficient strength length are prioritized for upgrade or replacement. This goal is particularly important for organizations that lack widespread implementation of multifactor authentication (MFA) and capabilities to protect against brute-force attacks (such as web application firewalls and third-party content delivery networks) or are unable to adopt passwordless authentication methods. * Modern attacker tools can crack eight-character passwords quickly. Length is a more impactful and important factor in password strength than complexity or frequent password rotations. Long passwords are also easier for users to create and remember.  Operational technology assets that use a central authentication mechanism (such as Active Directory) are most important to address. Examples of low-risk operational technology assets that may not be technically feasible include those in remote locations, such as those on offshore rigs or on wind turbines.

Brute force - password guessing (T1110.001) Brute force - password cracking (T1110.002) Brute force - password spraying (T1110.003) Brute force - credential stuffing (T1110.004)	All unsuccessful logins are logged and sent to an organization's security team or relevant logging system. Security teams are notified (e.g., by an alert) after a specific number of consecutive, unsuccessful login attempts in a short period (e.g., five failed attempts in two minutes). This alert is logged and stored in the relevant security or ticketing system for retroactive analysis. For IT assets, a system-enforced policy prevents future logins for the suspicious account. For example, this could be for some minimum time, or until the account is re-enabled by a privileged user. This configuration is enabled when available on an asset. For example, Windows 11 can automatically lock out accounts for 10 minutes after 10 incorrect logins over a 10-minute period.

MFA options sorted by strength, high to low, are as follows: 1. Hardware-based, phishing-resistant MFA (e.g., FIDO/WebAuthn or public key infrastructure (PKI)-based – see CISA guidance in “Resources”); 2. If such hardware-based MFA is not available, then mobile app-based soft tokens (preferably push notification with number matching) or emerging technology such as FIDO passkeys are used; 3. MFA via short message service (SMS) or voice only used when no other options are possible. IT: All IT accounts leverage MFA to access organizational resources. Prioritize accounts with highest risk, such as privileged administrative accounts for key IT systems. Operational technology: Within operational technology environments, MFA is enabled on all accounts and systems that can be accessed remotely, including vendors/maintenance accounts, remotely accessible user and engineering workstations, and remotely accessible Human Machine Interface (HMI.s.)
