IATA Geneva

What is IATA doing?

- Resolution and Core Principles
- Accessibility Symposium
- Wheelchair and Air Travel
- Air Hackathon

Who can see if you can't hear?

Flying is freedom, and we want to ensure passengers with disabilities fly with dignity. Different disabilities require different types of assistance. Please inform your airline of your requirements before you fly, or ask your travel agent to use the relevant IATA code. That way, airline staff can make your journey as comfortable as possible.

AGM Resolution & Principles

- Safety #1 priority
- Dignified travel
- Consistent, global approach
- Appropriate training
- Multi-stakeholder coordination
- International reach
- Understanding of operational realities

Accessibility Symposium

Key topics:

- Global policy consistency
- Hidden disabilities as priority
- Technology and universal design
- Importance of training
- Address inconsistencies in security policies across airports and states

First event of its kind dedicated to accessibility in air travel
