Application of IBC Airways, Inc. (IBC Airways) filed July 21, 2021, for:<sup>1</sup>

XX Emergency exemption under 14 C.F.R. §302.311 to provide the following service:

IBC Airways requests an emergency exemption from Order 2020-8-4, in order to operate five-times weekly all-cargo charter flights between Miami, Florida, on the one hand, and any of the following points in Cuba, on the other hand, using small aircraft, for the limited purpose of transporting humanitarian aid, medical supplies, and diplomatic mail: Havana, Santa Clara, Camagüey, Santiago de Cuba, and/or Varadero/Matanzas. IBC Airways also states that it would be interested in operating identical service to Manzanillo, Cienfuegos, and/or Holguin, and requests approval for these additional points if possible. IBC Airways states that it intends to begin this operation on July 27, 2021, or as soon as possible, and operate this schedule through December 31, 2021.

In support of its request, IBC Airways states that the proposed operation represents a continuation of its previously approved operation to carry humanitarian aid, medical supplies, and diplomatic mail.<sup>2</sup> IBC Airways asserts that its proposed operation would satisfy two exceptions noted in Order 2020-8-4, that permit certain charter operations for “emergency medical purposes..., and other travel deemed to be in the interest of the United States.”<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup> By Order 2020-8-4, the Department suspended the authority of all U.S. air carriers and foreign air carriers to provide charter flights between the United States and all airports in Cuba, except for authorized public charters to and from Havana and other authorized charter flights for emergency medical purposes, search and rescue, and other travel deemed to be in the interest of the United States.

DISCUSSION

Background: By Order 2020-8-4, issued August 13, 2020, the Department suspended the authority of all U.S. air carriers and foreign air carriers to provide charter flights between the United States and all airports in Cuba, except for authorized public charters to and from Havana and other authorized charter flights for emergency medical purposes, search and rescue, and other travel deemed to be in the interest of the United States.

The Department issued Order 2020-8-4 at the request of the U.S. Department of State, following the receipt of a letter from then-Secretary of State Michael R. Pompeo to then-Secretary of Transportation Elaine L. Chao, stating that:

To advance the Administration's policy to strengthen the economic pressure on the Cuban regime as a means to restrict the regime's ability to repress its people and support the illegitimate Maduro regime in Venezuela, and in the foreign-policy interests of the United States, I respectfully request that the Department of Transportation suspend until further notice all charter flights between the United States and all airports in Cuba over which the Department of Transportation exercises jurisdiction, except for authorized public charters to and from Havana, and other authorized charter flights for emergency medical purposes, search and rescue, and other travel deemed to be in the interest of the United States.<sup>4</sup>

Accordingly, the Department found that it was in the public interest to suspend the charter authority of all U.S. and foreign carriers to the extent necessary to prohibit charter operations between the United States and Cuba as set forth in the Order.

Decision: We have decided to grant IBC Airways' application for an exemption from Order 2020-8-4 to operate the proposed charter flights. Our action in Order 2020-8-4 suspending carriers' U.S.-Cuba charter authority was taken at the request of the U.S. Department of State, and it incorporated the Department of State's language as to permitted exceptions.

We take note of the assertion made by IBC Airways that the flights should be permitted under the Order's exceptions. Those exceptions, as discussed above, were expressly derived from the Department of State letter upon which the DOT suspension action was predicated. Accordingly, we consulted with the Department of State to determine whether they regard the proposed IBC Airways flights as coming within the Order's specified exceptions.

The Department of State provided its view that the application does fall within the Order's specified exceptions. The Department of State also noted its willingness to review future exemption requests to determine whether proposed flights fall within the scope of its specified exceptions as set forth in DOT's Order 2020-8-4, namely: emergency medical purposes, search and rescue, and other travel deemed to be in the interest of the United States. Against this background, we find that it would be in the public interest to grant the requested exemption from Order 2020-8-4 to operate the proposed all-cargo charter flights.

<sup>4</sup> The full text of the State Department's request is attached as an Appendix to Order 2020-8-4.

As a final matter, we remind the applicant that a number of significant limitations and requirements remain in place concerning air transportation between Cuba and the United States. Nothing in the Department's award of authority will relieve any party from complying with all applicable regulations and requirements of other U.S. agencies and with all applicable laws of the United States.

To the extent not granted, we denied all requests in the referenced application. We may amend, modify, or revoke the authority granted in this Notice at any time without hearing at our discretion.

Persons entitled to petition the Department for reconsideration of the action set forth in this Notice under the Department's regulations, 14 CFR §302.14, may file their petitions within ten (10) days after the date of issuance of this Notice. This action was effective when taken, and the filing of a petition for reconsideration will not alter such effectiveness.
