Sierra Club Member and Supporter Letter to Department of Treasury Regarding § 45Q Tax Credits for Carbon Capture, Utilization, and Storage

Make smart carbon capture tax credit guidelines that don't bail out fossil fuels

We, the undersigned 4,560 concerned citizens, urge you to issue guidelines to ensure that Section 45Q tax credit for carbon capture cannot be used as a lifeline for aging coal plants resulting in more pollution.

The tax credits of the Inflation Reduction Act are poised to accelerate the clean energy revolution by building new industries, driving new economic development, reducing the cost of energy, cleaning our air, and putting the nation on a pathway towards meeting our climate commitments. But to realize those benefits, we must ensure that the tax credits achieve the outcomes for which they were designed: by rapidly deploying clean energy, and not by bailing out dirty, expensive fossil fuels, to cut carbon emissions and keep other pollutants out of the air and water.

While Treasury's rules for the 45Q tax credit may not be able to prevent the litany of harms that may result from poorly executed carbon capture projects, it can provide firm guardrails that preclude ineffective projects from consideration.

Guardrails that prevent unsubstantiated projects from claiming credits, maintain a clear chain of tracking and accounting for emissions, protect vulnerable communities, and prevent fossil fuel generators from pursuing ineffective capture projects are imperative. Without these guardrails, some existing fossil fuel generators could even increase their emissions—and that would be a climate and taxpayer travesty.

We respectfully ask that you set stringent guardrails on the use of the Section 45Q tax credit, in line with the congressional intent of the IRA, to reduce pollution and invest in clean energy technologies.

Thank you for your leadership and the consideration of these comments.
